

TO YOU, O LORD, WE WILL SING A NEW SONG

*To you, O Lord, we will sing a new song.
You show us your love in so many ways.
To you, O Lord, we will sing a new song,
A song of happiness, song of joy,
A song of prayer and praise!*

You gave us giraffes and camels and frogs,
Opossums and penguins and bees.
You gave us the world, a world full of life:
The mountains, the valleys, the seas.

To you, O Lord . . .

You opened our eyes to colour and shade,
To beauty and faces and words.
You opened our ears to rhythm and dance
And gave us the song of the birds.

To you, O Lord . . .

You trusted our hands to work in the world
And use your creation with care.
You trusted our hearts to fill it with joy
By loving and learning to share.

To you, O Lord . . .

The gift of our mind can help us to learn
That you are the light of our days.
The gift of our voice can help us to sing
In wonder and worship and praise.

To you, O Lord . . .
